Using “My Learning”

My Learning is your personal dashboard for the Volunteer Learning Center. My Learning allows you to see what courses you are currently taking, what courses you are scheduled to take and what courses you have completed.

Once you have logged in you can access the ‘My Learning’ menu from the Home Page.

The My Learning page is a dashboard of your activity on the Volunteer Learning Center. The middle section of the page contains courses that you have started or completed. You can click on the name of the course to go directly into the course.

My Learning – My Schedule

The My Schedule option allows you to view your current and past scheduled course. The courses that appear here will be those that have a specific date and time only. Self-paced e-learning will not appear here.
My Learning – Record of Learning

Your record of learning is similar to what a high school or college transcript is like. The default view is All Learning, however you can filter to include only Active Learning or Completed Learning, by selecting the link on the left hand side. Just like in other areas of the Volunteer Learning Center, clicking on the name of a course will take you directly to the course.
